

Straight Talk Raises $45 Plan High-Speed Data Cap to 3GB

Ben Munson

Straight Talk has hiked the high-speed data cap on its \$45 unlimited plan from 2.5GB to an even 3GB of LTE [1].

Straight Talk also announced the $30 "All You Need" service plan now offers unlimited text, 1500 minutes of voice and 100MB of data.

The move to bump up its high-speed data cap comes just weeks after AT&T announced [2] its GoPhone prepaid brand was increasing the cap on its $60 unlimited plan from 2GB to 2.5GB.

Straight Talk is an MVNO that operates on AT&T's network.

Other prepaid brands have been busy adjusting their pricing as well. Boost Mobile just announced [3] a new simplified pricing structure, offering $40 unlimited plans with 500MB and topping out at $60 for 5GB.

Source URL (retrieved on 02/01/2015 - 2:58pm):

<http://www.wirelessweek.com/news/2014/05/straight-talk-raises-45-plan-high-speed-data-cap-3gb>

Links:

[1] <http://www.prnewswire.com/news-releases/straight-talk-wireless-available-exclusively-at-walmart-expands-their-45-unlimited-talk-text-and-data-plan-to-3gb-of-high-speed-data-259049411.html>

[2] <http://www.wirelessweek.com/news/2014/04/t-ups-data-caps-adds-tethering-gophone-customers>

[3] <http://www.wirelessweek.com/news/2014/05/boost-moves-away-shrinking-payments-new-unlimited-plans>